QUACK EYE DOCTORS IN BIG SWINDLE

Ben Wall, Farmer Near Mindoro, Pays Unknown Persons $625 for Operation Performed Upon Mother

SPECIALIST CLAIMED EYE WAS SERIOUSLY EFFECTED

Believed by Police to be Biggest Swindle in this Section of Country

THE story of what is alleged to be one of the most daring swindles in this section of the country in several years was unfolded to police officers at Central station Monday by Ben Wall, farmer living near Mindoro, who last Thursday turned over the sum of $625 to two unknown persons, claiming to be eye specialists and traveling in a high powered motor car, for an alleged operation performed upon his mother at their country residence.

Realizes Swindle

Wall told his story to the police Monday, after he had had sufficient time to think it over and come to the conclusion that it was a swindle. With a five day start before the incident was reported, police held out no hopes of recovering the money. Outside of the alleged phony name of Dr. L. Saunders, Boston, left with the family should there be cause for further attention after the operation. Wall had no information regarding the make of car or license number by which the police could expect to trace them.

His story to the police was that the younger of the two men came to the house to sell eye-glasses, while the other remained in the car. The salesman was referred to Wall's mother, who as it happened was evidently in need of a new pair of glasses. After a brief examination, the salesman indicated that there was a serious ailment in one of her eyes, but to make sure, he would call in the specialist to determine his diagnosis.

Serious Ailment

The ailment was found even more serious by the specialist who held that an operation would be necessary immediately in order to prevent total blindness, and even infection of the brain.

However, the specialist preferred that the patient be removed to a hospital in Milwaukee and Chicago for the operation. When this was apparently impossible, the specialist indicated that the operation could be done successfully in the home. The operation was to be done by radium and the physician informed them that only a charge for the amount of radium used would be made the professional services being free.

Pays Amount Asked

According to Wall's statement, the operation consisted merely of placing in the eye some liquid and the adjustment of her glasses. The specialist turned in a bill of $625 for the radium and the full amount was paid over.

Upon leaving, the specialist left his name, Dr. L. Saunders, 1221 Pine Avenue, Boston, Mass., at which place he could be found should anything more serious result after the operation. He departed with his partner, saying that they could never thank him enough for what he had done, and asked if he might not have something in addition to take home to his family. At this, he was offered some eggs, and his request for a whole case, was granted.

The younger of the men claimed he was a student at the University of Wisconsin.

WISCONSIN CADET AT WEST POINT KILLED IN BLAST

WEST POINT, N. Y.—Gerhard George Rowe, a member of the graduating class of the United States Military Academy, whose home was in Milwaukee, Wis., was killed near here Monday when he was struck in the chest by a piece of metal projected by an explosive charge.

He was one of a party of students from the academy engaged in military instruction. A section of railroad had been constructed and the cadets were being taught the method of destroying a railroad if compelled to retreat. When the explosive had been placed under the tracks the students were directed to take cover. Cadet Rowe, who was said to have become over-anxious, stepped from behind a tree the instant the charge went off.

Rum-Running Big Business In Florida

CHICAGO, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—Rum running along the South Atlantic seaboard has assumed such tremendous proportions that the inhabitants of poverty-stricken little islands have become rich overnight and the section has become known as "Bootleggers' Paradise." The Chicago Daily News said Tuesday in a copyrighted article describing conditions along the Florida coast. In the city of Nassau alone, the article said, official clearings of liquor bound for the United States increased from 37,821 gallons in 1917 to 1,340,443 gallons in 1922. The writer, accompanied by a bootlegger named "Terry," as guide, told of visiting the rum fleets, talking with the rum runners, helping transport the liquor and of distributing it in the United States.

$5 Quait in Miami

Miami, first stop of the investigators, was described as "a city where, if you feel the need of a drink and don't happen to have your own flask with you, all you need to do is wait in the shade of a palm tree until a resident comes along, ask him where you can find a bootlegger, and if he isn't one himself, he will tell you where to go. You can buy all the whiskey you want in Miami at $5 a quart."

Havana and Nassau were described as but two of the ports that were flooding the United States with liquor, some of it from American distilleries.

The Bahamas, poverty-stricken before prohibition and with revenues from all sources of less than half a million dollars, realized $2,798,000 in 1922 in duties from liquor shipped into the United States the article said, quoting a Nassau official who added that estimating that the 1,340,443 gallons of liquor cleared from the Bahamas for the United States was diluted fifty percent, this would mean that over 200,000 gallons of liquor were placed on the market in this country from the Bahamas alone.

Two Small Cutters

While prohibition officers are seizing liquor brought into their hands by legitimate ocean-going vessels, the article said, there are but two small cutters to guard the 1,200 miles of Florida coast "all made to order for rum running."

One of the two revenue cutters works out of Key West, the other out of Miami, the article stated. A bootlegger at Key West quoted by the writer, said the cutter at that point had made no real captures for three years. Once the revenue cutter and a rum runner were tied up nose to nose at Miami, said the article, the rum runner laden with 40,000 cases of liquor for Miami.

STEAMBOAT AND TRAINS HELD UP BY BALKY BRIDGE

Milwaukee Drawbridge Fails to Turn When Packet Whistles First Time

BRIDGEMAN NEGLECTS TO UNLOCK TRACKS FINALLY

Rails Bent and Three Trains are Delayed During Four Hours

A steamboat was forced to tie up and three passenger trains were delayed as a result of the jamming of the drawbridge on the Milwaukee railroad crossing the Mississippi at this point, early Monday morning. The accident occurred at 4 o'clock Monday morning when the packet Harry C. Press coming down river whistled for the bridge to open. There was no response to the whistle and the boat was finally compelled to tie up a short distance above the bridge. Finally the man in charge of the bridge started to turn the draw, but neglected it, it is alleged, to raise the lock at the end of the rails. When the draw started to turn, the rails were badly bent where the ends join at the end of the draw.

The packet was able to pass through after a half hour's delay, but pending the arrival of crews from the shops in North La Crosse and repairing of the twisted rails three mail and passenger trains Nos. 57, 15 and 101, were delayed. The bridge was closed to traffic for four hours and not until after 8 in the morning were trains able to pass over the structure.

BANK CLOSES IN GREAT FALLS AS FIGHTERS LEAVE

GREAT FALLS, Mont.—The Stanton Bank and Trust company of Great Falls closed its doors Monday. George H. Stanton, president, was prominent in the financing of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight at Shelby on July 4.

The bank closed its doors in voluntary liquidation. Failure to meet the morning's clearing, and realize upon its assets was given as the reason. The institution had a capital of $250,000 and deposits of $600,000.

George H. Stanton announced the bank was solvent and every dollar would be paid to depositors. The First State bank of Shelby of which Jim Johnson, one of the backers of the Dempsey-Gibbons bout, is president, closed Tuesday morning, according to a statement made here by State Bank Examiner L. O. Skelton, who is here to take charge of the Stanton bank.

ROILY WATER DUE TO HEAVY DRAFT OFFICIALS SAY

Roily water at the faucets over the entire city Monday evening was due to a tremendous draft from unusually heavy sprinkling, water department officials reported Tuesday when asked about the condition.

It was explained that because of the heavy draft, the supply of water is forced rapidly through the large mains, causing the corrosion inside the pipes to be washed into the current.

Officials were certain that Monday night's condition was not due to sediment in the reservoirs at Grandad. In view of the fact that they were cleaned this spring.

DAKOTA MAN TO BE "GRAND WHISKERINO" OF WORLD SALESMEN

CHICAGO, Ill.—Hans W. Langseth, 76, Barney, N. D., arrived Tuesday to be crowned "Grand Whiskerino" during the convention of the International Association of Specialty Salesmen. Langseth, who sells bibles, during the convention of the International contest. He boasts 17 feet of whiskers, which he started to cultivate when he was 20, according to association officials. Members of the court of the "Grand Whiskerino" will also be named, their ranking depending on the length of hirsute appendage.

MILLION AND HALF DAMAGE IN WEST CAUSED BY STORM

FARGO, N. D.—Late reports from storm-swept areas in various parts of North Dakota Tuesday reveal that the storms were more extensive than was first reported and that the estimate of $1,500,000 damage was not overdrawn. No further fatalities, however, were reported and the death limit stands at three with about half a dozen injured.

Can't Find Any Reason For Bill So He Vetoes It

MADISON, Wis.—Because he was unable to discover the purposes back of a condemnation bill Governor Blaine, Monday evening vetoed the measure.

"This bill seems almost a unique illustration of legislative futility," declared Governor Blaine. "It appears to be so uniform an example of going through the form of legislation and emerging with no result at all that it scarcely seems creditable that such a bill could have been passed. A diligent effort has been made to discover something that it accomplishes, but the exercises of diligence and ingenuity can detect no result at all."

"It follows, therefore, that as the act does not apply to any actions pending in the circuit court for Dane county or in the Supreme Court of Wisconsin, there is nothing to which it can apply, and no reason suggests itself why the measure should be added to the body of statute law."

"The bill was introduced by the Senate Committee on Judiciary. I find that the introduction of bills by committees has become the rule rather than the exception. The result of such procedure is to make it quite impossible for the executive to ascertain from what individual source such bills originated. It is clearly impossible for the executive, in the final sum of legislation, with the legislature adjourned, to seek out the author, that some light might be thrown upon a bill so introduced as to the author's intent or purpose."

RIVAL IS BELIEVED RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH OF YOUTH

JOLIET, Ill.—Two suspects are being detained here in connection with the mysterious murder of Frank Muren, 20 years old, who was waylaid and garrotted early Sunday morning and whose half clothed body, with the wrists bound to the ankles with heavy pieces of wire, was found under a pile of hay on a lonely roadside west of Rockdale late Sunday afternoon.

Revenge is believed to have been the motive for the act. It is thought that a rival suitor for the hand of Miss Margaret Hagerman, a Rockdale belle, whose home Muren had just left, may have committed the unusual crime. Carl Bilsland 30 years old and his nephew, Charles Wright, the two men being held, had been visiting the Hagerman home Saturday night and did not return to Joliet from that town, four miles southwest of here, until late Sunday afternoon.

NEW YORK YANKEES NARROWLY ESCAPE INJURY IN WRECK

NEW YORK.—Members of the New York Yankee baseball team escaped injury early Tuesday when the train on which they were riding from St. Louis to Chicago, was wrecked 20 miles south of their destination, said a dispatch to the New York Sun.

The dispatch said the tender, baggage coaches and three Pullman cars jumped the track and hung on the side of an embankment. None of the players was in the wrecked Pullmans.

As the time drew near for the Chicago-Yankee game, a special train was sent for the New York ball team. They arrived in Chicago four hours late, but in time for the game.

LEVIATHAN COMPLETES FIRST TRANS-ATLANTIC TRIP

CHERBOURG, France.—By The Associated Press.—The giant liner Leviathan arrived Tuesday on her first trans-Atlantic voyage, as a passenger ship under the American flag. She landed 800 of her passengers here and continued on to Southampton.

WARNS DRY OF MOVE TO DEFY PROHIBITION LAW

Methodist Leader Says Attack Aims at Nullifying Enforcement

CHICAGO, Ill.—A statement and an appeal of church officials to members and adherents to Protestant churches, saying that prohibition is being systematically impugned and defied by selfish interests, was made Tuesday by Dr. Deets Pickett, research secretary, board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, through the committee on conservation and advance here.

"Alien influences, not simply un-American, but in many cases anti-American, propose to establish a condition of nullification of the prohibition law," the statement said.

"These men are not now making a direct attack upon the prohibition amendment as they know that such an attempt would be fruitless. What they desire is to weaken enforcement of the law, to encourage its violation, to incite hostility to it by subtle jests, false rumors and distorted facts. It is particularly their object at the forthcoming and succeeding congressional sessions to weaken enforcement of prohibition by unjust criticism and hampering of the administration of the law."

"The Christian people of this country demand that all political parties shall declare for full enforcement of prohibition and against any weakening of the national prohibition act."

AUTO HEADLIGHT LAWS EXPLAINED AT MONDAY MEET

J. A. Hoeveler, Industrial Commission Expert, Explains Laws Monday Evening

Twenty auto owners attended a meeting of the Western Wisconsin Automobile Club at the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening to hear the explanation of the auto lighting laws of the state given by J. A. Hoeveler, illuminating engineer with the Wisconsin Industrial Commission.

The law requires, said the speaker, that autos be sufficiently well lighted so that the driver can see the road but specifies that the lights must be so adjusted as to eliminate a dangerous glare. Many people, he said, believe that in regulating auto headlights, the state is depriving the individual of some rights, but if the law is followed closely, better and safer lighting will result. Mr. Hoeveler explained in detail the different methods of focusing auto lights, and answered the questions of the audience on subjects regarding auto lighting.

SHOOT'S TRESPASSER AND IS KILLED IN RESISTING ARREST

CAMBRIDGE, Minn.—Two men were killed as the result of a shooting affray at Balbo, 15 miles northwest of here Sunday night, and early Monday according to information reaching here. John Schuberg, who objected to several men trespassing on certain land shot and killed Andrew Newman, one of the trespassers and was in turn shot and killed when he resisted Sheriff Johnson and two deputies who sought to arrest him.

MADISON MAN KILLED

MADISON, Wis.—Arthur Reynolds 39, Madison Madison boatman, was killed at 12:30 Tuesday morning on the highway between Beaver Dam and Fox Lake, when his car overturned and struck a pole. He left here at 9 p. m. for Fox Lake to fish.

BALDWIN PROMISES HOUSE STATEMENT OF POLICY ON REPARATIONS THURSDAY

Reported He Will Propose Conference to Assess German Ability to Pay Without Reference to French Opposition

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—Premier Baldwin announced in the house of commons Monday that it might be possible for the government to make a statement on reparations Thursday.

Satisfaction over Prime Minister Baldwin's promise of a statement is generally manifested by the press and numerous attempts have been made to penetrate official secrecy so that the public may be furnished with a forecast of the premier's utterances.

Expect Conference Proposal

It is impossible, however, at the moment to add anything of consequence to the opinion that England may again bring forward her suggestion for the appointment of an international commission which would determine Germany's capacity to pay. The possibility of calling into service such a commission is discussed favorably in several quarters and hope is expressed that America would participate. It is thought that Great Britain may suggest that the committee appointed last year be requested to serve again. J. F. Morgan was a member of this body.

(Importance of the reported plan of the conference suggested has been emphatically turned down by France, which has with equal emphasis refused to answer a questionnaire as to her reparations and Ruhr intentions. Revival of the conference plan, if this is Baldwin's idea, would be taken as meaning that Great Britain will not propose an effort to reach a solution without the aid or advice of Paris. This would, of course, be a practical rupture of the dual entente.) The diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph ventures the opinion that the prime minister's statement, which may be given in the house on Thursday, will be constructive rather than critical and will contain a final bid for the co-operation of Great Britain and her allies in restoring the European situation.

200 LIBRARIANS TO COME FROM DOZEN STATES TO MADISON

MADISON, Wis.—About 200 librarians and trustees from 15 states will attend the summer library conference at Madison, July 16 to 23, according to an announcement.

This will be the third meeting of this kind which has been conducted by the Wisconsin library commission, the previous ones having been held in 1911 and 1915.

Many exhibits have been arranged for showing binding methods, library supplies and equipment, library publications, selected book collections.

$250,000 FIRE IN MINOT

MINOT, N. D.—The Union National bank block and Tompkins block, situated in the heart of the city's business district, are a mass of smoking ruins as the result of a fire which broke out shortly after midnight Monday morning and which at noon had damaged property to an estimated extent of $250,000. Authorities say that the origin of the fire is unknown.

U. S. MANUFACTURERS START CAMPAIGN TO EFFECT THEIR VIEWS

Fighting War Bonus, Taxes and Restriction of Immigration

DEMAND HALT IN U. S.
RAILROAD LEGISLATION

Plan Campaign of Education to Instill their Ideas

BY HARDEN COLTAX
(Special Correspondent to the Tribune)
Copyright, 1922.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The organized manufacturers of the United States, more than 20,000 strong, representing invested capital of about $40,000,000,000 and employers of upwards of six million workers, have begun a concerted drive throughout the nation to swing the next congress to the line for the following four principles:

1. Opposition to the enactment of a soldier bonus law along the lines of recent proposals.
2. Enactment of what the manufacturers regard as a constructive immigration law permitting the entry into the country of selected groups of workers when the need for such workers is manifested by a labor shortage in their respective trades.
3. A legislative moratorium for the railroads.
4. Revision downward of tax burdens placed upon industry.

Urge Budgets
With respect to the last named principle, the manufacturers are extending their efforts to state and local governments as well. They have come out squarely for the adoption of the budget system by lesser units of government and contemplate working to that end in every state and city where they have representation.

Inauguration of the drive is announced in a letter addressed to the various state associations of manufacturers and the six thousand or more members of the national association of manufacturers by J. E. Edgerton, Earl Constantine and James A. Emery, chairman, secretary and counsel, respectively, of the National Industrial Council of New York city. A general campaign of education among the taxpayers of each state, to the end that the taxpayers may bring such proper pressure to bear upon members of congress as they can exert is advocated.

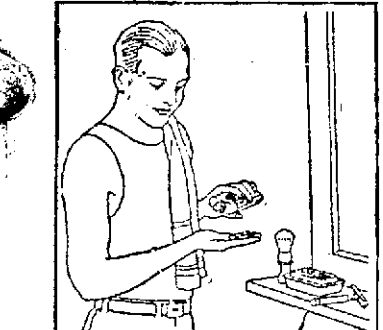

"You have an opportunity," reads the letter, "that will not be repeated to discuss these subjects with your representatives and to make them topics for popular consideration in various forums through which opinion is formulated and expressed. Now is the period of growing opinion. Now is the time when constituencies are open to argument."

"By December (when the next congress meets) many loose views will have crystallized into judgments. The time for correction of defects of reasoning and the presentation of views is now. If you do not take advantage of the opportunity presented, it will be too late when it has become that constituency and is reflected in the action of a representative."

First on the council's list of subjects to be discussed in that manner comes the soldier bonus. The council fought the bonus long and successfully when it appeared in the last congress. Its attitude is unchanged.

"The man who supports the bonus as proposed," reads the letter, "presumably in reference to the member of congress who supports the idea" risks permanent loss for small and questionable temporary gain.

"We urge the imperative importance of presenting this subject to your representatives and throughout your communities in order that there may be a clear, popular understanding of the moral and economic issues involved in this unfortunate effort to add a staggering burden to our industry."

GET OUT IN OPEN AS A MOTOR-CAMPER

PUBLIC CAMPING GROUNDS

The auto-camper has grown so in numbers during the last decade that his needs have interested the United States government, nearly every state in the Union and hundreds of cities and towns. Camping grounds of varying degrees of excellence are being provided by the hundreds every year.

An idea of the elaborateness of some of these parks can be had by the following provisions made by many: Water, electric lights, toilets, gas plates for cooking, fireplaces, police protection, rest rooms, grocery stores, fire wood, ice boxes and individual shelter houses. A camping ground as well equipped as this is often found in the west.

The government has provided countless camping sites in the territories supervised by its two great branches, the Forest Service and the National Parks Service.

There is no charge made in these preserves for the privilege of camping. They belong to the people and are set apart for their use.

Nearly every state is setting apart lands within their borders for the campers, particularly in the west. It is not uncommon to find parks containing from 50 to 300 acres where the outdoor lover may revel in fishing, boating, bathing, etc. Grounds controlled by the states are generally free and one can stay as long as he likes as a rule.

The cities and towns usually cooperate with the local chambers of commerce or automobile clubs in maintaining the camps. These sometimes can only be used by the payment of a small fee, although most of them are free. Municipalities have found that it pays to welcome the traveling motorist.

One of the most magnificent experiences in the life of a motorist is a tour of the national parks, a journey in itself of some 6000 miles. Here the camper may see some of the finest scenery in the world and live like a king in the great outdoors.

Camping grounds are everywhere in the parks and easy of access. It is an education in itself living for weeks in Uncle Sam's playgrounds.

In the east it is not always easy to find a public camping ground and it is a common practice to ask permission of farmers and land owners for the use of camp sites on private property.

In such instances, one cannot always get the conveniences desired. The camper must select his site with care. The ideal site is a spot, high and dry, near good water and not too shaded.

Hints for health are given in the final article.

dustrial life in the most delicate period of economic readjustment.

The council forces "an attempt to cut the present drastic three per cent immigration law to a two per cent law."

This the council urges the manufacturers throughout the country to oppose. In support of its proposals, it says:

"Administrative machinery to meet the conditions would place the control of the situation in the hands of the government so that neither the employer could induce an unnecessary supply nor could artificial combinations keep it below the demonstrated public need."

With respect to the railroads, the council feels that "it is apparent that a radical attack is to be made upon the existing transportation act. The act is by no means perfect, but it must be apparent that continued agitation and uncertainty as to the conditions under which the transportation service of the country is to be rendered will be a demoralizing influence upon the conduct of business."

"The railroads and the business of the country are badly in need of a legislative moratorium."

Governmental expenditures, the council points out, have reached a stage where "every 38 people engaged in earning their living are supporting two public employees."

"The more we ask government to do," the letter continues, "the more we must give it the means with which to do it. It has now reached a point where one dollar out of every six of our net income must go into the public treasury. Does not that make the whole subject of taxation one which you must take up with your representative before he returns to participate in a congress in which new and additional tax burdens are to be urged?"

The council's recommendations have been sent to the state associations of manufacturers in forty states. These average about 500 members each. Each member, in order to obtain membership, must be an actual manufacturer. It is estimated that these associations, which form, through their officers, the council's advisory board, contain in their membership seventy per cent of all the manufacturers, of whatever line, in the country.

TWO KILLED AND HUGE DAMAGE DONE BY DAKOTA GALE

Hail Ruins Crops Over Big Area, and Wind Blows Down
Buildings

BISMARCK, N. D.—At least four persons are known to have been injured and property damage estimated at $200,000, was done by violent wind storms that raked the territory between this city and Minot late Sunday, according to reports received here.

At several points the wind approximated the ferocity of a cyclone and turned over farm buildings, forced in windows and scattered telephone and telegraph poles, severing wire communication.

Storms Meet

The greatest force of the wind was felt at Turtle Lake, north of here where two storms, one from the northwest and one from the south, appeared to meet. The Northern Pacific roundhouse was destroyed, the Methodist church twisted from its foundation, and several barns in the vicinity were wrecked.

At Center, Mrs. H. D. Mason was blown from her porch by the wind and suffered a broken leg. The three others injured were struck by flying glass and timber at Mercer.

A battering full of hail accompanied the storm northwest of Garrison and wiped out crops in that vicinity over an area of at least 15 miles. South-west of here the hail caused damage of from 30 to 70 per cent.

At Washburn a grain elevator situated on the river bank was blown into the stream.

Two Reported Dead

FARGO, N. D.—At least two persons were killed and damage estimated at $1,500,000 was done by terrific wind, hail and rainstorms which swept over the north central and northeastern part of North Dakota late Sunday.

ORPHANED KIDS ADOPTED BY OBLIGING JERSEY COW

COTTER, Ark.—Cats have been known to nurse young rabbits, hogs have been mothered by cows, but for the first time on record in this section of the country, a fine Jersey cow, belonging to O. E. DeGroff of Reeds Spring, is raising two motherless kids. A few days ago, the mother goat died, leaving the two helpless infants.

Mr. DeGroff believed he would have to kill them or raise them on a bottle. A few mornings ago he went out to decide what to do and found that they had been adopted by a Jersey cow, which had been left in the same lot with them.

Exit Entente

It seems hardly possible that France could have made any significant change in her policy toward Germany without some inkling of the shift having become public. Therefore there is every reason to expect that the statement on reparations promised by Premier Baldwin on Thursday will be in effect casting loose the ties of the entente. Britain has gone as far with France as she deems expedient or possible, it has been repeatedly made plain, and so any new move in the matter, lacking a French concession, must be in the direction of a policy crossing that of Paris.

The signs of this have been evident for some time, notably in the government sponsorship of a big aircraft building bill which was correctly interpreted by France as a counter to her present air supremacy. Britain means to build the ships, and believes she really needs them to protect herself in an aerial emergency, but there can be little doubt that the measure authorizing them was offered to parliament just now as a warning to France. The warning impressed France, right enough, but the effect was to make her indignant and expostulatory, rather than to lead to a reconsideration of her policies. The immediate result was the refusal to pay attention to the British demand for some sort of clear and definite statement of French aims.

Something is going to drop in Europe, shortly. The tension over the Ruhr occupation and the general reparations muddle has got to the point where the strain can not last much longer. France, theoretically in alliance with Belgium, Italy and Britain in her policy, has been practically alone, with some shadowy co-operation from Belgium and Italy. Now the practical situation is doubtless to be recognized in the political line-up, and France will be given the opportunity to discover for herself how far a big army and air fleet can go against the fixed opposition and suspicion of the rest of Europe. There is not much doubt that the ultimate alignment will find Belgium and Italy rather with England than with France.

Taking a Trip

THE man who operated the world's first electric street car still is living and on the job. He is Walter B. Eubank, motorman in Richmond, Va. Eubank gave the signal that started the first electric street car. He also collected the first nickel fare. The man who paid that first fare was William A. Boswell. His nickel is exhibited in a New York museum.

Eubank, veteran motorman, has been responsible for the safety of more than six million passengers and never has had a serious accident in connection with his work. He has traveled 800,000 miles in street cars. Consider this long distance and the vast number of passengers transported without fatalities or serious injuries, and you will realize the great importance and constant nerve-tense vigilance of the men who run our street cars.

Yet we rarely give them a thought, let alone any concrete expression of thanks. Pass the cigars occasionally, brothers. And don't forget the motorman's team-worker, the conductor.

We progress faster than any of us realize. It may surprise you to know that the world's first electric street car made its initial trip only a little over 35 years ago. That trip ushered in an era of long distance traveling. There had, of course, been horse-cars previously. But it was the electric street car that accustomed us to frequent long trips.

They were novelties at first, those electric cars. Millions can recall the days when one way of having a hang-up good time in the evening was to take a ride to the end of the car line at the city limits, with the girl who wore a funny hat over her huge pompadour, the night breeze rushing fragrantly in at the open sides of the car, while the conductor moved along the side and collected the fare. Do you remember the rush for those cars after the horse races at the county fair?

At first it was a lark, real sport, to ride in a street car. The novelty wore off rapidly. While every one wanted a seat in the old days, the experience of riding on a street car was novel enough to be a pleasure even when the passenger had to stand (and pretend he was going to fall off, when the car rounded a curve).

Alas! watch the same person scowl and hear him grumble when he has to stand today, in the packed street car.

We tire of things—oh, so quickly! The thrill of today is the monotony of tomorrow. If it began raining $5 gold pieces, most of us would be complaining within a week.

Your Co-op

YOU remember the good old days when you could buy a fine meal for a quarter. The army is doing better than that. It will feed each of the 30,000 young men who attend the Citizens' Military Training Camps this summer at a cost of 70 cents a day for three meals.

The quartermaster general says he could give them the regular army chuck at 45 cents a day apiece. But an additional 25 cents has been provided, to furnish fancy eats, such as the 30,000 may happen to be accustomed to in civilian life.

Each man daily will get, in addition to the regulation menu, a pint of fresh milk or buttermilk, a salad for dinner, and cereal and fresh fruit for breakfast. These four items alone would cost 70 cents or more in the average restaurant.

To the person who eats in restaurants or does the market-basket shopping for a family the low cost of feeding the army is the eighth wonder of the world. And yet it's a marvel only by contrast.

In the first place, the army gets the advantage of co-operative buying—big orders, at wholesale prices. The middlemen are, to considerable extent, eliminated.

Then, comparing with restaurant prices and management: The restaurant has high overhead which the army in most cases avoids—high rents, insurance, semi-compulsory charitable donations, kitchen waste which in the army would be punished, higher-priced "help," cost of soliciting business, more fragile equipment, and probably the expenses of orchestra or standardized their meals and clubbed together other alluring entertainment.

The restaurant man will point out that one of the most vital of these items is that the army's "70 cents a day per man" doesn't include any labor charges.

The solution of certain phases of the high cost of living may be in army organization. For instance, if 25 or 50 families in a neighborhood to buy their supplies co-operatively, they could get wholesale prices, or nearly so.

Some visionaries have even predicted a day when cooking will be a community job. Meals would be prepared at a certain number of branch stations and carried home by the housewives or delivered to them in thermos boxes. Enough variety, of course, to permit a wide selection. The bakery idea, expanded and socialized.

These municipal kitchens may be visionary. But the idea of co-operative buying is practicable. When such ventures fail, it is usually due to defective organization and peanut politics.

TEN YEARS
AGO TODAY

After being out of professional baseball for a year, ever since the death of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league, La Crosse will get back into the list of cities with a baseball club of its own as soon as the details of transferring the St. Paul franchise and players in the Northern league can be arranged. La Crosse will take over the players of the club as well as the franchise and a series of eighteen straight games here is scheduled. The manager of the club is A. J. Lizotte.

Two persons were baptized into the Mormon faith in the waters of Black river at the foot of Gillette street yesterday morning. They were Mrs. L. Harland, 923 Vine street, and her daughter Lola. The ceremonies were performed by Elder J. A. Henry, Frank of a small Mormon village near Salt Lake City, Utah.

Laurence Barry of Davenport, Iowa, arrived in La Crosse today to spend his vacation with relatives. He is employed in the Rock Island arsenal.

Miss Josephine Charlotte Johnson and Mr. Carl Woodhead were married yesterday morning at the home of the bride's mother near Oshkosh. Rev. E. O. Vyk performed the ceremony. The couple will live at 417 North Ninth street.

TWENTY YEARS

The foundation is being laid in Tomah for the Heinz company salt station. The building is to be 66x166. More than 200 acres have been secured for the raising of cucumbers and the seed is furnished by the Heinz company. The persons who signed to raise the cucumbers are to receive a stipulated sum for them. It is expected that this will become quite an important industry in the neighborhood of Tomah and will be a means of wealth to the farmers.

St. Rose convent was the scene of very impressive and solemn services yesterday when a large class took the veil and vows. One La Crosse girl, Miss Clara Semich, is among the candidates. Among those taking their first vows were Miss Mary Miller and Miss Helen Frise, both of La Crosse. Sister Vialls who was Miss Anna Smykala and Sister Priscilla who was Miss Cecelia Slattery renewed their vows for seven years. A large class also took their final vows.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Ex-City Clerk Bacheller and Register Boschert went trouting yesterday, catching sixteen apiece.

A number of the retail clerks of the city met in the rooms over Vincent Tausche's hardware store last evening for the purpose of effecting organization of a branch of the National Retail Clerk's Protective association. A. L. Lindquist was chosen president, and J. H. Prohaska, secretary. A committee consisting of Andrew Mollen, Matt Evans and Andrew Olson was appointed on permanent organization. The object of the association is to maintain a high standard of wages.

St. John's church society cleared $370 from their picnic on Indian Hill July Fourth.

Tonight the following party will leave over the Milwaukee road for Chicago to visit the World's Fair: Mr. and Mrs. Ed. H. Nyhus, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. John Haugen, Mr. George Erickson and Miss Emma Erickson.

Mr. Olaf Viek, collector for the Republican and Leader, leaves today for the World's Fair.

Great-Uncle To Mary Louise

BY H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

"And so, after all these years, I am trying to make up for my indifference by this method of reputation. The money is yours to do with as you desire. When you receive it I shall be dead and beyond the reach of thanks. Your belatedly penitent great-uncle, Jonathan Benjamin Cowles."

This was the conclusion of the letter which Jimmy Stiles several days ago had signed with a flourishing signature and then read with grinning satisfaction. Cleverly worded that's what it was. And a darn bright idea. How tickled Mary Louise would be! And how unlikely ever to discover the hoax if so harsh a word could be applied to a scheme of such kindly intent.

Now he sat at his desk and wondered whether Mary Louise had received the enclosed certificate of deposit. Picking up a little snapshot taken during that unforgettable summer at Drift Harbor, he regarded it affectionately, while his thoughts traveled a long, long road back to his first meeting with Mary Louise.

She had come to visit her aunt, who was matron of the County Home, where Jimmy was one of many lonely, blue over-alled and aproned orphans. Bashful, she had hung back until he, Jimmy, had offered her his end of the sea-saw and had stood by to see that no one played the mean trick of jumping off and letting her to the ground with a thud.

Mary Louise's mother, because of whose illness she had been sent away, died during her absence and she stayed on with her aunt. And when matting up with a widow of small means and considerable family claimed the estimable matron, Mary Louise still lingered, mingling with the rest of the orphans until her origin became as blurred as theirs.

Jimmy became her champion in all the playground squabbles, nor did the marvelous piece of luck which befell him when he was fifteen make him forget her.

The rector of the church near the home found in Jimmy evidence of an unusual intellect and left no stone unturned until the boy was given an opportunity for unlimited schooling, with sufficient outside work to keep him independent.

Jimmy rose rapidly—graduated brilliantly from high school—went into a lawyer's office daylongs, and continued study at evening school. Ultimately he entered the bar and became an attorney with a reputation before he was thirty.

Meanwhile Mary Louise had been "shooed out" to a lonely farmer's wife. Growing attached to her, the woman had done more than the stipulated clothing and feeding of the child—had taught her what she could of grammar, geography and similar rudiments of learning.

A summer boarder had taken an interest and lent her books, not only during her stay but for many months afterward. In short, the two women had implanted in Mary Louise the yearning to acquire knowledge. There are few greater gifts.

These changes had meant separation for the boy and girl, during which the memory of each grew dim to the other but did not utterly fade. And at Drift Harbor, that wonder spot of ocean beach and vivid sunset and riotous surf their paths converged once more.

Signing his name in the Drift Harbor House register, Jimmy looked up from the final flourish of his signature—James W. Stiles, Boston—straight into a pair of well-remembered soft blue eyes.

"You! Mary Louise?"

Yes, it was Mary Louise, who sometimes filled in at the hotel, which stood a mile or two from her adopted home, in various capacities from that of clerk to waitress. And it was Mary Louise who had grown so lovingly and pretty with the years, that Jimmy was hardly to be blamed for passing on the feminine guests at the hotel and sending whatever of his home moments coincided with hers in the company of Mary Louise.

"Are you happy, Mary Louise?" he asked one day.

Mary Louise threw him a questioning glance from beneath her curly lashes. "Just now," she said ingeniously. "But waiters—oh, Jimmy, it is very lonely. And—and I see no future. If only I could afford to go to the city and have a couple of years at a normal school. Then—oh, just think, I might be able to teach!"

OUT OUR WAY

She sighed blissfully, as though teaching were an achievement too heavenly to contemplate. "I dream nights of what I would do with a thousand dollars. That's my favorite air castle in Spain."

That winter Jimmy unexpectedly won a case which netted him an even thousand and the sight of the check brought back to him the words of Mary Louise.

An intense longing surged within him to help her out even as years ago he had been helped by the kindly rector. But handing over a sum of that amount to an unrelated young lady presented a problem.

Suddenly the idea of creating a fictitious great-uncle occurred to him—a great-uncle who would exist but for a moment or a sheet of paper, but long enough to bequeath to Mary Louise a thousand-dollar legacy.

The letter had been written and sent and now Jimmy sat and dreamed in his office of its reception by a blue-eyed girl in a lonely farmhouse near Drift Harbor.

And as he dreamed the door of his office opened. At sight of a slim figure Jimmy sprang to his feet.

"You fraud!" cried a sweet voice.

"My great-uncle Jimmy!"

Jimmy swallowed. "How—er—Why—er—"

"Well, partly because I read in the papers of your thousand-dollar fee in the Hitecheck case, but mostly because only one person in the world makes the funny 'st' that you do. I had only to compare the 'J' of Jonathan with the 'J' on the hotel register to have my suspicions confirmed. Of course I couldn't—"

"Mary Louise," interrupted Jimmy firmly, "hand over that certificate!" And when she did so he folded it evenly and slipped it into his pocket-book. "What an idiot I was to give you a chance to go out of my sight again!" And his face wore the expression of one upon whom a great light has broken suddenly. "Come straight into my arms, my darling!" And Mary Louise came.

JOSEPH KONETCHY GETS JAIL SENTENCE ON SPEEDING CHARGE

La Crosse Traveling Salesman Given Twenty Days in Winona Court

Joseph Konetchy, 28 years old, La Crosse automobile salesman, was sentenced to serve 20 days in the Winona county jail when he pleaded guilty before Judge J. J. Fitzpatrick in municipal court to a charge of driving a car while intoxicated and at an unreasonable rate of speed Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock on East Broadway.

Konetchy was arrested by Motorcycle Policeman August Ringold after a pursuit of eight blocks. Konetchy drove east on Broadway at 45 miles an hour despite heavy traffic, according to the officer's report.

Wife Was Present
Konetchy's wife and an unidentified man were other occupants of the car, police said. After Konetchy had been lodged in a jail cell, police said they received several reports that he had been seen traveling at a high rate of speed on West Fifth street a short time before his arrest on East Broadway.

When Konetchy was arraigned in court he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile at an unreasonable rate of speed, but denied he was intoxicated. Judge Fitzpatrick imposed a fine of $40 or a 10 day jail sentence on the speeding charge, and was prepared to set the drunken driving case for trial.

"How much will the fine be if I plead guilty to the other charge?" Konetchy inquired.

Warned in Advance
"There probably wouldn't be any fine," Judge Fitzpatrick replied. "You would most likely get a straight jail sentence."

Konetchy thought a moment. "I might as well plead guilty and get it over with," he announced. "You admit that you were driving a car while intoxicated, do you?" Judge Fitzpatrick asked.

"I suppose I was if I was driving that fast," the defendant replied.

The court accepted Konetchy's plea of guilty and revoked the previous penalty on the speeding charge, grouping the two angles of the case and imposing a 20 day jail sentence on both charges.

CHICAGO YOUTH, 19, TO HANG FOR POLICEMAN'S MURDER

CHICAGO, Ill.—Walter Krauser, 19 years old, was sentenced to hang on October 9 despite his youthfulness, for the murder of Policeman Ralph Souders, by Judge Oscar Hebel in criminal court.

Souders was shot during a holdup, and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe is demanding "the rope" in all murder cases brought to trial here in an effort to stamp out gunmen activities.

Seven other men are in "murderers' row" awaiting execution.

DOGS ON WANE IN STATE--ALL GONE IN DECADE MORE

Canines Decreasing at Rate of 20,000 Per Year Says State Report

MADISON, Wis.—The dog population of Wisconsin is on the decrease. It is declining at the rate of 20,000 a year. In 1920 there were 247,000 dogs in the state, according to A. B. Alexander of the state department of agriculture. In 1922 the dog population decreased to 220,000 and this year, according to official figures the population has dropped to 200,000. If this ratio continues the dog will be exterminated as a species in Wisconsin in a period of ten years.

Data on dogs is compiled under the law passed by the legislature several years ago requiring the licensing of all dogs. The license money is used to pay damages done to farmers' live stock by dogs. The records of the department show that July 1920 to January 1, 1922, $40,000 was paid to farmers in the state for damages done to animals by dogs. The payments from January 1, 1922 to Jan. 1, 1923 was $35,000 additional. Mr. Alexander estimates that of the damage done to domestic animals by dogs, 50 percent is to sheep, 10 percent to poultry and 10 percent to horses, cattle and hogs. An effort was made to repeal the dog law at the last session, but failed. The only explanation given for the decrease in the dog population is that farmers are killing worthless curs.

My Baby Skin

TWO BIG CHECKING JOBS DELAY END OF 1923 SESSION

Special Session Expected But Not Before the Early Autumn

MADISON, Wis.—Governor J. J. Blaine is making an effort to bring about a final adjournment of the legislature this week. It was originally hoped that when the legislature met at 10:30 Tuesday it would be able to adjourn but there are two important revisor bills pending before the legislature which must be checked over before there is a final adjournment.

"Everything could be cleaned up within a few hours so far as my office is concerned," declared Governor Blaine. "I have called upon the chief clerks of both houses to file with me a report showing status of all bills now in the enrolling room. It should be possible to get all of these bills to my desk during the week so that the legislature may be finally adjourned."

Back Early in Fall

There is now every indication that the legislature will be called back early this fall to again pass upon educational problems. The continuing appropriations for the normal and university are almost sufficient to operate these institutions. The university has for operating expenses an amount in excess of that which would have been allowed by the joint finance committee bill. It is claimed here that the normal schools need upwards of $300,000 additional for operating expenses.

Details of these demands are being checked over by J. H. Gordon secretary of the state board of public affairs. It is said that should Governor Blaine call a special session, he will ask both houses to again pass on the tax question. There is no probability of a session here until late in September or early in October.

Governor Blaine has announced that he will not be on the stump during the months of August or September.

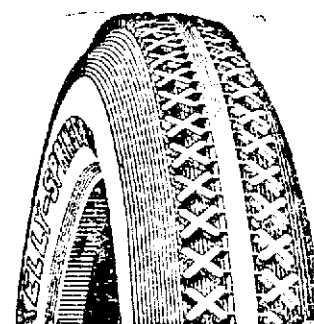

A mosquito is unwelcome because he always brings his bill.

This Way to Curl Hair Is Fine for Outdoor Girl

The silmerine method for curling the hair is the proper thing for either bobbed or long hair before going morning, boating or golfing, or indulging in any outdoor sport or exercise. It not only gives the hair the most beautiful wavy and curly appearance imaginable, but wind or heat will not take the curl out. The curliness is quickly acquired and lasts much longer than where waving tongs are used. Besides, the hair is bright and lustrous, instead of dull and dead looking. When combed out it is as nice and fluffy as if it had just been shampooed. Just get a bottle of fluid silmerine at any drug store, follow the easy directions, and you will be simply delighted.

from Grandma to the Baby

—every member of your family ought to eat Mapl-Flake for breakfast.

What makes the children romp and play, The old folks act so bright and gay? Why, eating Mapl-Flake each day; To good health thus they pave the way.

Mapl-Flake is the "food that keeps you right"—a whole wheat flake with all of the bran left in. There's enough bran to be a harmless, natural laxative—and yet it is so hidden in the delightful flavor that you would never know it's there.

We take selected whole wheat, sweeten it, flake it, and toast it to a delicious brown. You get all of the nutrition in the whole wheat. You get vitamins A and B which science has discovered are so necessary to good health and "farm hand" appetites. And you get the harmless, non-habit-forming laxative action of the bran as well—all of the pleasure of eating a tasty nourishing food, all of the advantage of bran.

$1000 in Prizes for Jingles

Come on, you Mapl-Flakers! Write a four-line jingle telling how good Mapl-Flake is and how good it is for you. Write a lot of them—and win one of 165 prizes. First prize, $250. Contest closes August 15, 1923. Mail your entries early to the Contest Manager, Armour Grain Company Chicago, Ill.

WOMAN'S PARTY PLANS FIGHT FOR EQUALITY

Will Meet at Birthplace of Movement for Emancipation

SENECA FALLS, N. Y.—In this little town where 75 years ago the first woman's rights convention in America was held, members of the National Woman's Party will meet within the next fortnight to distinguish the difference between a joke and a privilege as applied by law to the weaker sex.

What is comparable to the bill of rights has been drawn up by the women, and if approved at the conference an effort will be made to introduce in the next congress an amendment to the constitution giving equal rights to men and women throughout the entire country. Mrs. Burnett Sherton Matthews, head of the legal research department of the woman's party, has provided the foundation for the amendment and in picturesque language, Mrs. Matthews has this to say:

Protection of Women

"The self-sacrificing propensity of the male, of which Adam gave so potent a demonstration shortly after creation has resulted in the creation of a legal system of which one of the most cherished aims and objects has been the protection of women."

Continuing, Mrs. Matthews declares that this self-same protective legal system perpetrates the following jokes under the guise of privileges:

Deprives women of all right of guardianship of their own children. Deprives them, upon marriage, of the right to enter into contracts. Deprives them of the control of their own property.

Deprives them of the right to establish a domicile for themselves under any circumstances and for any purpose.

Deprives them of the power to admit their own children into the home they bought with their own money if the husband objects to such admittance.

Equal Wages and Rights

Moreover, says Mrs. Matthews, "women have been consistently and universally paid less for the same work in business and industry and are denied promotion that is given men of equal ability. They have been excluded from colleges and from equal opportunities in the colleges to which they are admitted. They have been excluded from public office and they have been discriminated against in the practice of all professions. Their marriage they have been deprived of all control over their own labor and robbed of the earnings of that labor. They have been restrained in their personal liberty, discriminated against in divorce laws and put in an inferior position even in the moral standing which has prevailed throughout the whole world."

The conference members intend to visit Rochester to make a pilgrimage to the grave of Susan B. Anthony who was for sixty years the mainstay of the suffrage cause in America. Thereafter they will adjourn to their respective states to begin the fight for the amendment.

MILDRED MACKENZIE AND W. B. MORSE MARRIED JUNE 13

MRS. CHARLES Stewart Mackenzie announces the marriage of her daughter, Mildred, to Mr. Walter Burdard Morse, which took place Saturday, June the thirtieth, at Danvers, Mass. The bride is well known in this city, having spent a summer with her aunt, Mrs. David Ross Drake.

MISS HEDY Sieber of Winterthur, Switzerland is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rosshard and Mrs. Marie Rosshard, 938 Cameron Avenue. After touring the states and spending some time in California and New York, Miss Sieber will sail in the fall for home.

MISS CLARA Kuschel is home from Danzig, Mich., on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Herman Kuschel, 926 Redfield street.

MISS MARY Stevens of Minneapolis spent the week-end in town with friends.

MISS DOROTHY Hart has returned from Fremont, Neb., where she has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Murphy.

MRS. F. E. Peterson, accompanied by her son, Roy, returned Monday evening to River Falls, Wis., after a visit with the former's sisters and brother, Mrs. O. H. Friedel, Miss Neale Nelson and Mr. O. H. Nelson, 1430 Vine street.

MRS. FRED Reichelt of Minneapolis is in town visiting relatives and friends.

Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Greenwalt, Mrs. A. R. Mitchell and Mrs. Margaret Reichelt motored to Eau Claire and Menomonie for the week-end.

MR. AND MRS. Fred Heinz and daughter, Janet, of St. Paul spent the fourth in town visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edward Palmer, 1432 George street.

THE LADIES Aid society of the Trinity Lutheran church will have a picnic at Lieber's camp, Brice Prairie, Wednesday afternoon. Every one invited. Cars will be in waiting at the church at 2:30. Each one is asked to bring one article of food, dishes and silver.

THE LADIES of William McKinley Relief corps, No. 2, will hold a birthday supper at the lodge rooms for all having anniversaries in April, May and June, on Wednesday, July 11, at 6:30.

MRS. E. L. SIMONS of Chicago, formerly of this city, is visiting her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Kisselbach, 212 North Seventh street. Mrs. Simons was honor guest on Saturday at a dinner party given to Mrs. A. Bartelsson at Tip-Top Inn at Galesville.

MR. AND MRS. Leroy H. Minor left Saturday night for their new home at Conway Springs, Kansas.

WOMEN GOLFERS will give a bridge party on Thursday afternoon at half-past two. Those not desiring to play may bring sewing. Refreshments will be served. Reservations may be made to Mrs. Greggar Smedley or Mrs. H. E. Wolf.

WOMAN WINS FAME MAKING MAYONNAISE

WICHITA FALLS, Texas.—When Mrs. C. H. Evans of this city took her little Dover egg beater and beat out a salad dressing of her own concoction she started something the world won't let her stop.

It was only for the family at first that this woman thought of putting up a Thousand Island dressing that would be better than any she bought. But she made the error—or was it good fortune—of giving her neighbors a taste of it.

Her fame soon spread beyond the neighborhood, throughout the city, and now it has gone out into the state and country. Now Mrs. Evans is finding it hard to meet the growing army of hungry salad bowls and sawing mayonnaise ladies for her product.

It was only last June that Mrs. Evans sold her first bottle of dressing at wholesale to a Wichita Falls dealer. She had supplanted her little Dover beater with a seven-gallon electric mixer at a cost of $400, and the kitchen table had given way to a breakfast room workshop.

But not for long. The demand grew so fast that the seven-gallon mixer soon went into the discard for a 20-gallon outfit that is pounding away overtime to satisfy the clamoring trade, and the converted breakfast room had its nose put completely out of joint by a little white, one-room backyard factory containing equipment worth $3,000.

And this factory is already being cramped for space. Another big white factory is in sight, one that will some day convert eggs and oil and sweet peppers and tomatoes into the salad dressing that is making Mrs. Evans famous.

The new factory is almost a sure thing, for more than 200 stores in this city and nearby towns—as well as some not so nearby—are being supplied daily with this salad dressing. And more customers are coming in regularly.

Household Suggestions

UNCOOKEKD MEAT

Keep your uncooked meat in a covered enamel dish in your icebox. Never put it away wrapped in the paper in which the butcher delivered it.

SOAPING DISHWATER

For soaping dishwater you will find a wire soap shaker a good help and into it you can put the small pieces of soap that are too small to handle satisfactorily and that otherwise would be wasted.

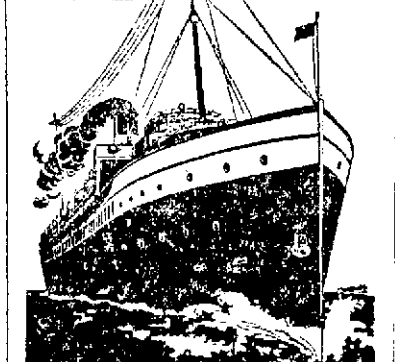

LIGHTEN HOUSEWORK

During the summer months when housework should be reduced to the minimum, put away all bric-a-brac, ornaments and pieces of silver or brass you have on display, and do not burden yourself with the care of them.

GLASS JARS

If you keep your spices, tea, coffee and other supplies in glass jars they will not only be airtight but you can tell at a glance just how much you have on hand and keep properly stocked.

FLOCK DOT VOILE

Among the myriads of thin summer fabrics shown for hot weather, flock dot voile is most popular. It is favored in dark colors and is usually made with no trimming except hand drawn collars and cuffs.

Figured batiste is another comfortable summer stuff and is seen in such unusual effects as brown designs on a white ground. Light figured batistes too, in Pompadour designs, are used for quaint and charming dresses.

Cotton crepe has been so perfected that it's now possible to buy it with confidence that it won't shrink or lose its crinkle after being washed. For that fact is due a sudden popularity that is expected to increase with warmer weather.

SOPRANO GIVES FINE RECITAL AT NORMAL

The recital of Mary Powelanky, soprano, was enthusiastically received at the Normal school Tuesday morning. Miss Powelanky, who came here under the management of Harry Culbertson of Chicago, was accompanied by Mr. Ralph Roth.

The program presented was varied enough to suit all tastes, ranging from grand opera to ballads. Miss Powelanky's interpretation and phrasing are artistic while both her high and low tones have remarkable power and sweetness. She sang with ease and grace and in spite of her youth she is master of a very even voice which is of remarkable strength coming from such a diminutive person.

One song which was received with particular enthusiasm by the audience was "Day," composed by Mr. Ralph Roth, the accompanist. Mr. Roth has recently won a music prize in Kansas for one of his compositions. "Day" is one of his newer songs, as yet unpublished.

Miss Powelanky was born in Muscatine, Iowa, and is a product of American training. She is being received with great enthusiasm throughout the country. The great beauty of her voice, her deep understanding and charming personality should place her among the foremost American artists.

The program:

GOVERNOR APPROVES PLAN TO CHECK UP INCOME TAX RETURNS

Finance Committee Bill Signed
by Blaine Provides Special Funds

MADISON, Wis., July 10.—Gov. Blaine has signed the finance committee bill appropriating $200,000 to the tax commission for the next biennium to be used in paying special examiners to check up and verify income tax returns. In urging passage of the bill the commission set forth that many times the cost of this work would be paid into the state treasury in delinquent taxes as a result of the work of examiners.

Several bills carrying appropriations for the printing board, state superintendent, state treasurer, superintendent of public property and secretary of state, also were signed.

Other bills approved by the chief executive follow: By A. E. Smith, relating to certain credits to be given students in state normal schools.

By finance committee, making emergency appropriation to normal school regents for water and light bills.

By Dopp, making appropriation to industrial commission to compensate Leone Belmont of Oconomowoc for injuries received at the Mendota hospital.

By education committee, creating town of Foster in Clark county.

By fish and game committee, relating to prohibited methods of fishing.

By fish and game committee, relating to establishment of substantial fish hatcheries and making appropriation.

By agriculture committee, defining duties and powers of department of markets and providing penalties.

By Sumnerville, creating town of Wilkison in Rusk county.

By finance committee, relating to operation, maintenance, repairs and capital of Wisconsin Veterans Home.

By finance committee, relating to payment of bills by state athletic commission and making appropriation.

NEW POSTOFFICE FOR RUSHFORD IS NOW BEING BUILT

RUSHFORD, Minn.—This city is to have one of the best postoffice buildings in this part of the country or state, the government having accepted the proposal of a committee appointed to offer as a building the site occupied by the Modern Woodmen hall, located two doors south of the present postoffice. The offer was made in connection with an ad for bids, sent out by the postoffice department for a postoffice site.

The contract between Woodmen and U. S. government is for a ten-year rental of a building, at a monthly rent of $50.00 or $600.00 per year. The building will be of wood construction and will be equipped with all modern improvements.

In tearing down the old building much expense was saved by each member of the Woodmen Camp giving three days time at the work, also in excavating for the basement.

The building is expected to be ready for occupancy by Dec. 1st. The committee on land, building and finance is composed of C. O. Berg, M. Johnson, E. S. Halberstadt, J. G. Robertson and Albert Steadman.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS GIVE FIREPLACE TO TOURIST CAMP

RUSHFORD, Minn.—The Camp Fire Girls of this city, whose director is Miss Greta Magnusson, recently made a valuable contribution to the tourist camp here in the shape of a fine fireplace for the grounds, where hot meals may be prepared by those visiting the place. The Camp Fire Girls furnished the money with which workmen were paid for building the fireplace. The tourist camp is in constant use, being considered one of the best of its kind near here, located far enough from the city to avoid noise and confusion, yet near enough to be very convenient for purchasing supplies. The camp was fitted out by the Women's Welfare league, of this city, two years ago, the organization providing pump, adequate supplies of tables and benches, toilet facilities, rubbish cans for garbage, etc. In the near future, the league also hopes to provide some sort of shelter for picnic parties and others who use the grounds.

WHEAT PRICES IN STIFF SETBACK ON CHICAGO CHANGE

CHICAGO.—Wheat underwent a sharp setback in price Tuesday and for the first time this season September sold as low as $1.00 a bushel. Much of the decline came after announcement of the arrival in Chicago of the first car of new wheat from the 1923 crop.

Prices closed weak at the lowest level of the day, 2 1/2 to 3-cents under yesterday's finish. Indications that the spring wheat crop was maturing ahead of threatened damage by black rust was largely responsible for seedling prices down grade. The market closed heavy, 2 1/2 to 2 3/4-cents lower, September $1.00 to $1.00 1/4 and December $1.03 to $1.03 1/4.

BELGIANS ATTACK GERMAN OFFICIAL AT BRUSSELS

BRUSSELS.—By The Associated Press.—The German charge d'affaires here was assaulted Monday evening by two former Belgian soldiers, who followed him from his location to his private house, entering the vestibule, the man attacked the diplomat and administered a severe beating. The assailants were arrested and released on bail.

ICEBERG BLOWN UP TO PROVIDE THRILL FOR HARDING PARTY

ABOARD U. S. S. HENDERSON WITH PRESIDENT HARDING.—By The Associated Press.—A spectacle of crushing ice was turned to thrill President Harding's party as the Henderson approached Juneau, capital of Alaska, Tuesday morning. Five-inch shells fired from a navy gun on the Henderson were to shatter the ice walls pushed out into Taku Bay 35 miles south of Juneau, by the Taku glacier, sending splashing and crashing masses tumbling into the water.

The program of the president's tour of the nation's Northern-most territory—permitted twenty-four hours in Juneau, arriving at ten o'clock this morning and departing tomorrow morning for Seward on a three-day voyage across the Gulf of Alaska, at the north end of the Pacific ocean.

CONVENTION OF LUTHER LEAGUE HELD LAST WEEK

VIROQUA, Wis.—The district convention of the Luther league was held at Newry near this city on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. It was largely attended by delegates and pastors from the various churches. A feature of the program presented was a sacred concert by one hundred and thirty singers on Sunday evening under direction of Rev. Holm of Westby. The concert was composed of singers from the various churches represented.

U. S. GRAND JURY AT SUPERIOR TO PROBE LIQUOR SITUATION

SUPERIOR, Wis.—The federal grand jury, which will assemble in Superior August 7, will undoubtedly make a probe of alleged violation of the liquor law in Superior and in Douglas county and may, under the nuisance abatement laws, close several buildings where alleged violations are taking place. W. T. Comerford, clerk of the court, who came here from Madison for the formal opening of the court, announced Tuesday.

U. S. TO FORFEIT LIQUOR TAKEN ON FOREIGN LINERS

WASHINGTON.—Forfeiture proceedings were decided on by treasury and prohibition officials Tuesday as the means of disposing of liquor seized from ships violating the prohibition law. Libel suits will be brought against the contraband liquor. It was announced, and not against the ship or commander bringing it in.

MAKE LAWNS IN THE FALL

Springtime is commonly considered to be the best time to seed lawns, but with lawns better results often are obtained by seeding at some other season. Except, perhaps, in the northern tier of states and in New England, says the United States department of agriculture, early autumn seeding is much more satisfactory than spring seeding, south of the latitude of New York spring seeding should rarely if ever be practiced. There are good reasons for this rule. Young grass does not stand well in spring and summer and is not sufficiently aggressive to combat crabgrass and other summer annual weeds. In the area south of this and north of the Potomac and Ohio rivers the time is early in September. The seeding of an old lawn should be done at the same season as new seeding.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR DAY SET FOR THURSDAY

CANTON, O.—Funeral services for William H. Day, former associate justice of the United States supreme court, will be held here at 2 p. m. Thursday. The body arrived Tuesday morning from Mackinac Island, Mich. where he died Monday.

Many dignitaries, including members of the federal supreme court and the state supreme court and various bar associations, are expected for the funeral.

DERR IS AWARDED GRADING CONTRACT ON FAIR GROUNDS

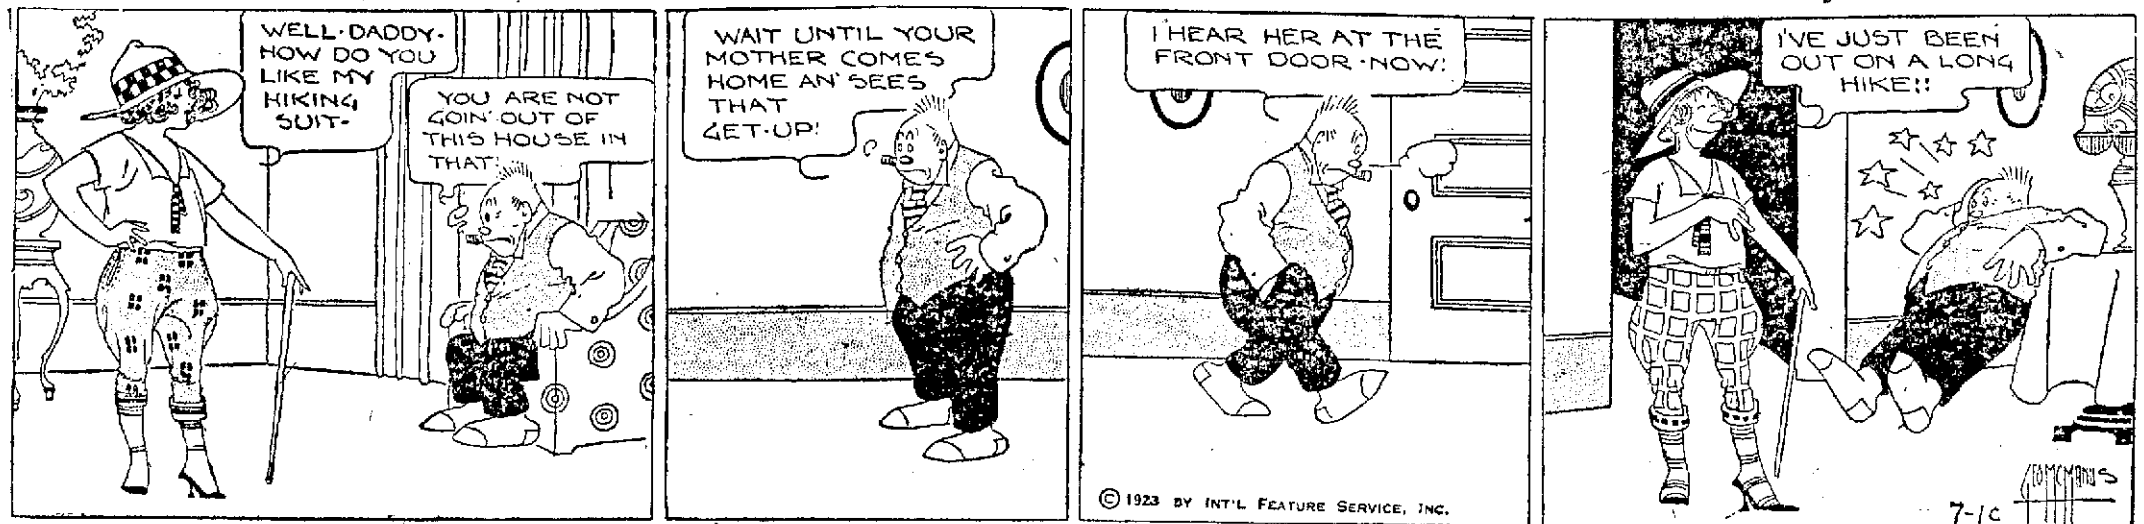

Bids for New Livestock Display Building to be Opened at Ten Next Saturday

E. H. Derr was awarded the contract to do the grading for the location for the new livestock display building to be erected on the fair grounds this year. The building is to be located north of the Badger street entrance parallel with the Green Bay railroad and 200 feet north of the building erected last year. Engineer W. S. Woods made the survey and laid the lines of the fill, which will aggregate 4400 yards. The contractors now have plans and specifications for the new building. Bids will be opened at 10 o'clock Saturday, at the office of George H. Gordon, president of the fair association.

BADGER YOUTH WITH BULLET IN HEAD MAY LIVE

NEENAH, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—Although Raymond Blake, 15 years old, has a bullet embedded in the base of his brain, physicians said on Sunday he will recover, but the bullet must stay there. It is in such a position that physicians dare not operate.

FRENCH RATIFY TWO WASHINGTON CONFERENCE PACTS

PARIS.—By The Associated Press.—The four Pacific treaty signed at the Washington armament conference was ratified by the French chamber of deputies Monday. The ratification is expected to be followed shortly by the senate's approval of both this and the naval limitation treaty, adopted by the chamber last Saturday.

The treaty relating to the use of submarines and poison gases and protection of neutrals and noncom-batants and the two pacts relating to China are unlikely to come before parliament until after the summer recess.

HISTORIC GALLOWS TREE ON ELLIS ISLAND GOES

NEW YORK.—A famous old gallows has disappeared. It was a tree on Ellis Island, used a century or two ago for the hanging of pirates and other criminals. Immigration Commissioner Ted, who has just resigned, thought the historic associations of the ancient tree were not very nice for immigrants, seeing it, to contempt. Anyway, they were building an addition to the detention room of the immigration station. So he had the gallows tree cut down.

Aviators who flew across America in 27 hours will try to do it again and call it a day.

Always a Room & Bath $3.50

WE would like to make it clear that our operation of the BROADWAY-CLARIDGE HOTEL in the heart of New York is going to be successful only because we render sincere service at a "square price."

It is our privilege to prove the old slogan "A Room and a Bath for $3.50" is not just a fairy story which generally applies to ONE ROOM in a 300-room unit. We wish to go on record that the BROADWAY-CLARIDGE HOTEL has 200 rooms and baths for $3.50. This does not mean that the rooms are cheap. It is simply cording good value.

Now making yearly leases at moderate rentals.

We are desirous of catering to the right kind of people and assuring them of a hearty personal welcome. There is NO CHANGE OF POLICY, QUALITY OR CHARACTER IN THE BROADWAY-CLARIDGE. It is just as clean, wholesome and well conducted as in the past, with a warm personal greeting and welcome from its old staff and its new operator.

BE CAREFUL, MADAM

You who use Palmolive Soap have a serious purpose.

You quit common soaps because you wanted fine complexions, youthful skin. Now common soaps are made to imitate Palmolive, so that buyers will think that they get it.

Be careful. If you want Palmolive, look out for deceptions. Palmolive has become, by its clear results, the leading toilet soap of the world.

One user told another—the others told others. Thus millions of beauty lovers came to adopt this soap.

Not merely because of olive oil or palm oil. But because our experts gave those oils efficiency they never had before.

Now very cheap soaps are colored green and made in Palmolive shape. They are given like-sounding names.

Thus, careless people think they get Palmolive when they don't. Then complexions suffer. The desired results are lacking. And folks blame Palmolive for it.

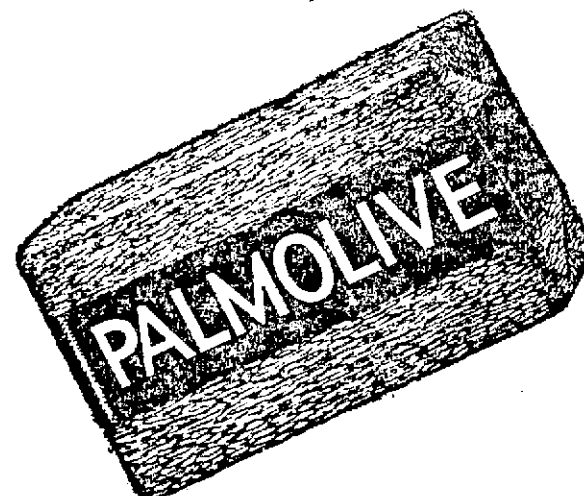

Palmolive is based on an ideal blend of palm and olive oils. It has been perfected by many years of scientific study. The skin effects are unique. They have never been attained from any oils before.

It is a quality soap—a 25-cent quality. But enormous production enables a 10-cent price.

If you want those virtues—and you do—the only way to get them is in real Palmolive Soap.

The way to get it is to watch the name and wrapper. Otherwise, you may get a soap which brings no like results.

LOOK TO MINNESOTA FOR VERDICT UPON THE ADMINISTRATION

Result of Next Monday's Senatorial Election is Eagerly Awaited

ST. PAUL, Minn.—By The Associated Press.—Outcome of the Minnesota senatorial election on July 16 will be watched closely in national political circles, as possibly having a bearing on the next presidential election, it was said by some political observers here.

The trend of the republican vote for Governor J. A. O. Proulx and that for Magnus Johnson, farmer-laborite, political opponents declare, will give them a good indication of the sentiment of the people, at least in this section of the country, on the policies of the present republican national administration.

Governor Proulx has the endorsement of the administration and he approves its program and actions. Johnson opposes the Harding platform.

If the farmer-labor party elects its man to the seat left vacant by the death of Senator Knute Nelson, and polls a large vote, it is expected by party leaders to greatly aid the federated farmer-labor party.

PARAGUAYAN REBELS THREATEN CAPITAL

BUENOS AIRES.—By The Associated Press.—The Paraguayan revolutionists are reported to have advanced to within fourteen miles of Asuncion, the capital, and the government authorities are preparing to repel a threatened attack, calling for volunteers.

The rebels, according to dispatches, have captured Ypacaray near Asuncion cutting the railroad and continuing their advance.

CONVICTS WANT HALF DAY OF REST; OVERSEER QUILTS

TAMPA, Fla.—Superintendent L. S. McIntosh of the Hillsboro County convict camp, resigned because the prisoners are threatening to strike for a half holiday on Saturdays.

According to McIntosh, the convicts refused to work on July 4, and have formed a union in some of the other camps to enforce their demands for half holidays.

Dissatisfaction with working hours has spread since the legislature passed new laws for regulation of convicts which grew out of the investigation into the death of Martin Tabert in a prison camp, McIntosh said.

MEN AND AFFAIRS IN WASHINGTON

BY ROBERT T. SMALL
Copyright, 1923.

WASHINGTON.—Out of the claims and counter-claims respecting the amount of damage done to the Latvian while she was still the Vaterland interned at Hahoken, it seems to be pretty well established that the Germans did commit a sort of half hearted sabotage but nothing like the mechanical atrocities the world at the time was led to believe. The atrocity story was a part and parcel of the propaganda of the world war. It was the sort that every nation engaged in the war felt to be necessary.

The greatest purpose of propaganda was to keep the armies in the field and the folks at home mad. America was in the war so short a time and the whole thing was such a novelty to us that it was not difficult to keep this country interested and moving at top pitch. Then too we had fed upon the European propaganda from time to time and relished it keenly.

Keeping 'em Mad
The European nations, at grips with the enemy for more than four years were faced with a mighty task in keeping their peoples mad. Every few days some sort of stories had to be spread to demonstrate the viciousness of the enemy and the need of exterminating him from the face of the earth. These stories were more easily fed to the folks at home, of course, than to the soldiers at the front. The result was that there was always more anger in London and Paris for instance, than over there was at Verdun or Vimy Ridge.

There was always the danger of the war becoming commonplace drudgery to those engaged in it. Sensibilities were so blunted that war was regarded as the normal thing in life and peace but an empty dream. There also was the danger to be guarded against, fraternization between the soldiers of one's own army and the enemy. This was particularly true where the lines were close together and where actual hostilities were more or less inactive.

It was fraternization along the Eastern front which first broke down the morale of the Russian army. The Germans skillfully sowed the seeds of discontent and discord among the Russian soldiers, particularly poisoning them against their western allies. Thus when the revolution came, the elements of chaos already had been planted in the army and Germany had placed a dangerous enemy hors de combat.

So complete was the fraternization between the German and Russian soldiers on some parts of the eastern front reports were received of German bands giving concerts in No Man's Land between the trenches.

Difference of Races
It was interesting to watch the various forms of propaganda employed at the front. The Latin temperament, for instance, required an entirely different sort of treatment from the Anglo-Saxon in order to get the desired reaction. Back of the French lines the fences and bulletin boards constantly were placarded with the most terrorizing pictures of the Boche on atrocities bent. No details of the alleged outrages were spared. Women and children were pictured in dying despair. Each illustration was accompanied by a brief story of the heinous crime.

The fact that some of the alleged atrocities were at least two years old, led to no hesitancy exploiting the crimes anew every week or so. Whether the dread tales were true, it is not for the writer to say and it was indubitably true that little or no word of complaint was heard from the French women and girls in the occupied regions of France when these regions were released by American and British armies. On the contrary French women spoke in high terms of the discipline maintained by the German commanders.

The writer seems visiting with Philip Gibbs a little village on the Somme which had been burned during the German retreat in 1917. The church had been spared and we talked with the priest. He said the German commander in the village had an American wife who was very kind. He credited the wife with saving his church. Presumably for some word as to the general conduct of the Germans, the priest could only say that the suffering of the French people under the occupation had been mental and spiritual rather than physical.

Eventually we found the aged man of the cloth did have one great grievance against an earlier military commander in the district. It seemed this particular Boche insisted on promouncing Paris with a particularly harsh "S" at the end.

And all the time he knew it should be "Parce," stormed the priest.

The Germans conducted their own propaganda in the occupied French territory by printing daily papers in French. These papers told some dreadful tales of what was going on in the world, dissension among the allies, success of the U-boat warfare, the impotence of America and every other sort of falsehood calculated to break down the French spirit.

The Germans themselves supplied the British with their best propaganda. Every time there was a slackening of British interest in the war, every time there was a disposition at home to count the cost and wonder if it was worth going on with, the Germans would send a few Zeppelins or a few Goettas over to bomb London and kill non-combatant men, women and children. Also they would send a U-boat out to sink a hospital ship.

These depredations were enough to stiffen the back of the English to superhuman efforts. They helped to keep England in the war and were largely instrumental in defeating Germany. Germany knew she could not win the war by sinking a few hospital ships or by occasionally bombing London. These raids were in themselves a form of German propaganda intended to hearten their own folks at home.

The German people were also firing of the war. The old stories of the allies being the aggressors were not sufficient to keep the people of the Fatherland spurred to fighting pitch. Nor was there anything going on to make them mad. Therefore, the Germans were appealed to through their pride of accomplishment. The U-boats were isolating England and would prevent America from crossing the sea. The Zeppelins and airplanes had London and Paris in the palms of the world were bawling. The war would soon be over, and so it went. It was propaganda shame.

Greater Crops

CONDITIONS in the farming industry are the broad-gauged barometers of general business in the United States.

When crops are good prosperity is general.

It is obvious, therefore, that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) can turn its facilities and talents to no more important task than that of assisting the farmer to secure a greater crop return per acre.

The experience of the past ten or fifteen years has demonstrated that farms where automotive equipment is used are operated on a lower cost level and with a higher crop return than is the case where animal power is used.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is doing its utmost to promote the use of motorized machinery on the farm. Throughout ten middle western states this Company maintains a system of distribution which insures the farmer a dependable supply of gasoline, kerosene, lubricants and other products of petroleum at all times.

In this territory the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) maintains 3,780 bulk stations, out of which some 7,000 trucks and tank wagons carry its products to the farmer's home or if necessary to the tractor in the field.

This is one of the services which only a big organization could perform and it is a service worth while.

To emphasize the far reaching benefits of motorizing farm equipment, it is only necessary to state that farm property values in the United States have increased from forty billions of dollars in 1910 to eighty-five billions in 1920 — an advance of 107% for a ten-year period.

The service performed by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a factor of importance in making this increase possible.

PICNICKERS MUST BE MORE CAREFUL AT SCOUT CAMP

New Restrictions Issued for those Who Go to Visit Boys
at Council Bay

Sunday, July the 8th was one day when heat was king, and Camp Young Bear had its quota of people who were trying to escape the heat and enjoy the coolness provided by the pines and large oak trees. Scores of autos were parked outside of the reservation showing there were crowds enjoying themselves in the depth of the woods.

The camp staff were having a vacation, the first since camp opened, as they had finished with their construction work, and had only twenty-one boys in camp. But on Monday morning the camp was filled to capacity, and for the rest of the week, every officer of the camp is expected to work from sixteen to twenty hours a day, taking care of the boys of La Crosse.

Bathing Restriction

Hereafter, the visitors to camp will be requested not to go in bathing at any part of the Bay from the narrows, that is where the Bay empties into the Black River and further back. The scout requirements are that a life saver must be present wherever one or more boys go swimming. This is to protect the boy, and the reputation of the camp since a drowning should be taken among the visitors that accident would always be referred to as happening at the Boy Scout camp, causing a fear on the part of the parents for the safety of their children, although scout officials could not be blamed for the drowning. Appropriate signs will be put up, and no one should feel offended, if a courteous scout comes and requests him to come out of the water and dress. Camp Young Bear is a private ground, and is open to the public for a half month of the year, but in the one and a half months during camping season, the boys must have full swing on their own reservation.

Another incident that is quite desirable, caused through thoughtlessness, or perhaps ignorance on the part of campers or picnickers is that of throwing broken glass, and empty tin cans into the bay. The boys in swimming especially the younger ones close to the shore, step on the broken glass, causing a great many tugged cuts on the feet, which confines them to the shore.

In 1924, no camper, or picnicker will be allowed on the reservation during the period of camping, but visitors will be allowed on Sunday afternoons only. For the rest of the camping year, it is hoped that all picnickers will pick up all paper, broken glass, empty bottles, empty tin cans, paper plates, banana peels, and take them home with them and empty them in their own garbage instead of throwing in the bay, or ravines for unknown to them, there may be a path running along the front of same, which the boys are taking on their little jumps, and perhaps, unknown to the picnicker, the paper, glass, and even scraps of food they throw have to be picked up, and carried to the camp dump and burned. The camp is for the boys and not for the picnickers. Many of the better type of picnickers are thoughtful enough to observe these courtesies regarding refuse.

On Sunday evening, in the big union lodge which has been recently built, a very impressive court of honor was held, four members of the camp staff, and three members of the council being present, at which time Clifford Griez, of troop 2, was examined in his tenderfoot requirements and passed an exceptionally good examination. The questions were asked by the chief, and his pin was awarded by Dan Young Bear.

"THE LONELY ROAD"

Ordinarily, the theater-goer doesn't feel that much of a plot is required to carry a production in which the most beautiful woman in the world is starred; and he seldom calls for such a treat when a picture is built on a truly great story.

But in "The Lonely Road," which opened at the Rivoli theater last evening, he finds that the producer has been doubly generous—for this production was both Miss Marjorie Carr's and William Fox's. The simple story she uses to adorn the role of "Betty" in this picture, and she seldom has been given a more fitting story than this original tale from the pen of Charles Leane. "The Lonely Road" deals with a fascinating series of marital adventures of a beautiful young woman and a struggling business man who failed to give his wife the companionship she had sought.

"PASSIONATE FRIENDS"

H. G. Wells, the man whose fearless writings have made him the most famous author in the world, has finally consented to having his fiction filmed, the first being "The Passionate Friends."

In this story H. G. Wells attempts to prove that a man can love two women, both worthily, and be honorable.

A film story of "The Passionate Friends" follows the book in every detail.

The management of the Majestic theater announces that "The Passionate Friends" will be the principal feature today and Wednesday.

AT THE STRAND TODAY

"It is more important to empty the cupboards of the country than the jails." This is the belief of Bessie Love, the young screen actress whose role in "Forget-Me-Not," at the Strand theater this week, is that of Ann, an orphan girl having spent two weeks in an orphanage, and a well conducted one, in Los Angeles, before taking up the work of appearing as an orphan. Miss Love speaks with the authority of experience.

"I don't mean that children are treated unkindly in institutions. They are actually are instances of happiness, but during the two weeks when I was an orphan, to all outward appearances, I found unfeeling consideration. But one thing that struck me was that there was, and could be, no lavishing of affection upon the children by an individual."

A "PENZIE" IN REAL

LIFE IS MARY CARR. Some five years ago, our boys marched under French skies singing cheerily, despite the eighty-seven pounds of baggage slung over their shoulders. There's a Long, Long Trail A-Winding.

Today a brave and smiling little woman, who plays the leading character in the William Fox special, "The Custard Cup," appearing at the Casino theater, illustrates the song, by smiling her way through life when it is the hardest. This woman is chummy known to the entire town as "Penzie," portrayed by Mrs. Mary Carr. "Penzie" of "The Custard Cup" is no frothy, optimistic, who branches all over the place. She's a realist, healthy woman, who trails down "Paradise Road," making it such through the brilliancy of her smile and the sincerity of her love for her neighbor.

ORLADY OF MONDOVI IS HELD FOR TRIAL OTHERS DISMISSED

MONDOVI, Wis.—George B. Orlady, city treasurer here, on Monday was bound over to the next term of the circuit court at the request of R. S. Cowie of La Crosse, his attorney, to answer a charge of complicity in the robbery of the Mondovi bank, of which he was vice president, on Dec. 23, 1922.

The cases of Ed Perfect of Durand and Arthur Cantrell of Downsville, whose hearing was set for Monday on the same charge, were dismissed. District Attorney George L. Broadfoot moved dismissal of all three cases.

J. B. Messersmith of the attorney general's office failed to appear, send affidavits, or produce Charles Bladd and Alfred Meyers, convicts on indeterminate sentences in the Minnesota state prison on whose testimony charges were brought.

NO FAKIRS AT ALL AT STATE FAIR MILWAUKEE PLAN

MADISON, Wis.—The way of the fair fakir is getting harder in Wisconsin. For many years these adventurers, most of them non-residents, have flocked to the state and county fairs, set up their stands, worked their show or gaming device, and moved on with the profits of their enterprise. State restrictions gradually have curbed their operations in later years, and some fairs now draw the line closely.

The Wisconsin state fair this year leads the way for this state by barring the fakirs altogether. This year's premium book announces that games of any kind, either of skill or chance, will not be allowed to operate.

The "not wanted" sign is hung on the roll-down, swinging ball, fish pond, add-a-ball, shoe-string game, bucket game, clothes-pin rack, pickout game, corn game, devil's howling alley, striking machine, marble-roll, ed for a 100 per cent strike in support of their demand for liberation of other wheel, puddles, art gallery, or Dan Livingston, president, and James other invention for taking much and t. NEW HEAD OF THE STATE SCHOOL AT SPARTA ON DUTY

C. D. Lehman, Successor to Dr. Prince, Takes Over Office During Last Week

SPARTA, Wis.—C. D. Lehman, newly appointed superintendent of the state school for dependent children, began his new duties the past week, as head of the institution. Mr. Lehman is a native of Indiana. He is a married man and has a son, 13 years of age. Mr. Lehman has had several years' experience in social work, in connection with industrial plants, and during the world war was connected with the ordnance department of the army. Since that time, he has taken the engineering course at the University of Wisconsin, and has been a lecturer there on subjects in connection with welfare work. Dr. Prince and family left the city the past week, his connection with the state school coming to a close, July first. Dr. Prince went directly to Madison, but his wife and daughter will visit at several points before joining him.

City Council Meets
The regular monthly meeting of the city council took place at the city hall Tuesday evening. The business was mostly routine, but the meeting held on a night nearly midnight. The resignation of weigh master E. A. Clark was presented and accepted and L. H. Conner was elected to fill the vacancy. The petition of the Wisconsin Oil company to establish and maintain a filling station at the corner of East Oak and Spring street, on the property where one of the Jefferson warehouses now stands was granted by the council. Billiard and pool licenses were granted to Fred Harter, Fleming and Florence, Raymond Huff, Charles Miles and George Wadehubl. A license was also granted to the latter for selling non-intoxicating liquor.

A large number of sewers on different streets was also ordered and a uniform assessment ordered levied on the abutting property at the rate of 50 cents per lineal foot, on both sides of the street.

Methodist Rally

A great rally of the Methodist men of the La Crosse district was held in this city, on Sunday, July 8. Rev. A. V. Ingham of La Crosse, the district superintendent had charge of the meetings. The men, and pastors from the numerous churches in the district gathered in the city and marched in a long line down the main streets to courthouse square, where the first meeting of the day was held at ten thirty o'clock in the forenoon.

The music was under the direction of the local pastor, Rev. E. E. North. Prof. C. D. Dexter led the orchestra. A splendid address was given by Rev. Matthew J. Treney, D. D., of Chicago. The subject for the morning address was "The Abiding Reality of the Christian Faith."

At 12:15 a picnic dinner was served on the church lawn near the parsonage. Tables were set, and the ladies' Aid society served hot coffee, cream and sugar, and lemonade, free to the delegates and local members. A short business session was held at two o'clock in the church, and at half past two the closing service of the rally was held on the courthouse lawn. After the song service, Rev. Treney spoke on "Youth and the New Day." Several hundred men were in attendance at the meetings.

Pretty Wedding

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at the home of Mrs. F. R. Salisbury, on Spring street, Saturday evening, when her daughter, Miss Jane Salisbury became the bride of Mr. Fred E. Steele. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Dora Dietrich sang "Beloved It Is Morn", and then followed the strains of "Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. Geo. E. Stickney. The wedding procession advanced to the altar, a bower of flowers and ferns, lead by the bridesmaids, Miss Margetta Steele, sister of the groom and Miss Mildred Hansen, followed by the maid of honor, Miss Mildred Sinclair, a college friend of the bride. Last in the procession was the bride, gowned in white satin, with a bridal veil and cap, carrying a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The groom accompanied by the best man, Orin Newton, joined the bride at the altar of ferns and flowers. Dr. E. C. Dixon, pastor of the First Methodist church in La Crosse performed the impressive double ring service that made these two, man and wife.

Following the wedding ceremony, a dainty supper was served, during which time, Miss Dora Dietrich sang selections by a stringed trio under the direction of Mr. Fred Ranstrom, a former music teacher of the bride.

At the conclusion of the supper, Mr. and Mrs. Steele left by auto for a trip into the lake region of Northern Wisconsin, after which they will establish their home in La Crosse, where the room is a practicing attorney. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion in the color scheme of lavender and pink, with a background of pine festooning the archways and stairways. Completing the color scheme the bridesmaids and maid of honor wore gowns of lavender and pink and carried garden baskets filled with pink roses.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of the Sparta high school, the bride is also a graduate of the state university at Madison. The groom is a graduate of Lawrence college and of the law course at the state university. The out-of-town guests were David Davis and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hayden and family of Sun Prairie; Mr. and Mrs. Orin I. Newton of Minneapolis, and Mrs. B. F. Turning and Mrs. John Balliett, Tomah; Mrs. George E. Stickney, formerly Miss Doris Brenner of Jacksonville, Ill.; Misses Grace and Freda Backhausen of La Crosse; Miss Mildred Hansen, Rio; Miss Doris Dietrich, Plymouth; Miss Mildred Sinclair, Billings, Mont.; Glen Roberts, Madison; Tom Dartnell, East Orange, New Jersey, and Ben Sias, Oulaska.

ANYONE can make Perfect Jam or Jelly by the CERTO Process

By following a simple CERTO recipe you can now make perfect jam or jelly with any fruit and have a bountiful, varied supply of the most delicious jams and jellies you have ever tasted. With CERTO, jam or jelly-making is delightfully easy and economical.

Only one minute's boiling required, thus saving the natural color, flavor, fragrance and delicacy of ripe fruit. No re-boilings—the right consistency the first time. No juice being lost in boiling, you get one-half more jam and jelly at less cost per jar.

CERTO (Sure-Jell)

Contains No Gelatine Nor Preservative
CERTO is a pure fruit product. It is sold by grocers everywhere, or sent postpaid for 35 cents. Recipe Book of 76 recipes wrapped with every bottle.

Start in with any available fruit, then follow with other fruits in season, and make a large supply of Jams and Jellies.
